Trade Leads from Export USA and ThinkGlobal.com

Export USA, the export promotion magazine of the USA, is available in six languages: Chinese, English, French, Korean, Portuguese, and Spanish.

The digital edition of Export USA can be read for free, online at exusa.thinkglobal.us

Every issue of Export USA features leading American companies and trade shows looking to find distributors, agents and/or buyers for their products and services. The purpose of the magazine is to assist importers all over the world in their search for American products and services.

Developed to replace Commercial News USA, Export USA is distributed bi-monthly to readers outside the United States. The magazine reaches more than a quarter million readers in 178 countries worldwide.

Export USA has a solid track record for helping U.S. exporters expand into new markets. No other magazine in the world provides international buyers with as many potential American partners.

Export USA is a proven method for finding the right U.S. suppliers for your company. Each issue features U.S. companies interested in expanding into new markets around the world—and who are ready to do business.

Our mission is to help international buyers, distributors, wholesalers, agents, or other business partners find American partners.

Every year, buyers from around the world use Export USA to find suppliers and other potential American business partners. Whether you are looking to buy for the first time from the United States or to find additional American partners, Export USA will provide new opportunities.

If you are an international buyer, distributor or importer interested in doing business with an American company in any form: direct purchase, representation, distribution, franchising, joint venture or other strategic partnering, Export USA will help your business.

Our mission is to help international buyers, distributors, wholesalers, agents, or other business partners find American partners.

In addition to Export USA, importers and exporters worldwide also can find new trade leads on ThinkGlobal.com, our B2B Trade Leads portal.

ThinkGlobal.com features trade leads for importing and exporting. You will find American companies included in this edition of Export USA featured in the Products section on ThinkGlobal.com.

In addition to trade leads, ThinkGlobal.com is like a “YouTube for Business,” offering a dedicated business platform for videos from importers, exporters and service providers.

ThinkGlobal.com combines many of the most powerful marketing tools on the Internet, including streaming video, live events, advanced analytics, and localization into any language.

Together, Export USA and ThinkGlobal.com comprise the most comprehensive trade leads platform in the USA.

Getting started is free and easy. To register, just visit ThinkGlobal.com.

AV Is Moving Forward at InfoComm 2014

Businesses and institutions around the world rely on the $90 billion USD global professional audiovisual industry to communicate. InfoComm is the leading commercial audiovisual systems marketplace for integrated display, projection, audio, conferencing, lighting and staging, digital signage and communications system solutions. InfoComm 2014 will take place 14-20 June 2014 at the Las Vegas Convention Center, in Las Vegas, Nevada.

The training program will include hundreds of courses, basic through advanced levels, covering audio, video, projection, digital signage, design, certification, conferencing, AV-IT integration, and more. The exposition, being held 18-20 June, will feature 950 exhibitors from the leading audiovisual manufacturers and service providers. We are also holding special conferences on digital signage and conferencing technologies.

“Attending InfoComm’s tradeshow is a worthwhile investment in both time and money,” said David Labuskes, CTS, RCDD, Executive Director and CEO, InfoComm International. “In just a few days you can visit the most comprehensive array of professional audio, digital signage, display, unified collaborative conferencing, lighting, control system and signal distribution technology manufacturers available in one location, all while receiving world-class education and training from leading experts and manufacturers.”

Although InfoComm is large, it is easy to navigate, thanks to pavilions that bring together like technologies. Audio, Digital Signage, Lighting and Staging, Security and United Collaborative Conferencing are just a few of the pavilions featuring integrated solutions from innovative manufacturers. Many products and special exhibits on the show floor can only be seen at InfoComm.

InfoComm 2013 in Orlando was the largest show in InfoComm history with more than 35,000 attendees from 110 countries. In 2013, 937 exhibitors participated in the event. Exhibitors occupied more than 43,664 n.s.m. of exhibit and special events space.

InfoComm 2014 is supported by the U.S. Department of Commerce International Buyers Program (IBP). During the Show, trade specialists from the Commercial Service will be managing the International Business Center (IBC) and the U.S. Export Pavilion. In the IBC, buyers and sellers come together, using the meeting rooms provided free of charge on a first come first serve basis, and taking advantage of the facility to plan their visits to the exhibit floor.

Benefits for organized delegations include:

- Complimentary 3-day exhibits-only registration for InfoComm 2014 — $125 USD value.
- Two complimentary educational seminars within the InfoComm University program held in conjunction with the exposition — $200 USD value. (Please note that only two-hour seminars are eligible for this offer, which is subject to availability. Most sessions are offered in English only).
- Unlimited access to International Business Center
- Invitation to the International Reception hosted by InfoComm on Wednesday evening, 18 June

- Special invitation to the InfoComm Opening Reception on Tuesday evening, 17 June
- Special VIP international delegate “IBP” identification ribbon and registration badge

- Dedicated international registration area with multi-lingual staff

Please visit your U.S. Embassy or consulate to find out more about this program, as there may be an opportunity to join a delegation from your country.

InfoComm is produced by InfoComm International, the trade association representing the commercial audiovisual industry, now in its 75th year. For more information about InfoComm 2014, please visit www.infocommshow.org.

Registration Now Open for NRA Show 2014

Registration for the 2014 Restaurant, Hotel-Motel Show and International Wine, Spirits & Beer Event (IWSB) is now open.

The NRA Show 2014 will be held at Chicago's McCormick Place, May 17-20, 2014. The event is the restaurant and hospitality industry's premier trade show and an opportunity to gain inspiration from renowned experts, innovative suppliers, celebrated chefs and tens of thousands of industry professionals.

The co-located IWSB 2014 event will take place May 18-19, and is the only beverage alcohol event exclusively focused on growing restaurant and hospitality bar programs. The hugely successful IWSB features hundreds of established and emerging alcohol brands and labels and influential beverage alcohol buyers.

Each year, more than 60,000 professionals and 2,000 exhibitors gather in Chicago for four days that will shape the foodservice industry for an entire year. Produced by the National Restaurant Association, NRA Show is the biggest, broadest, most exciting foodservice show in the world. That means everything you need to make your business better is here: connections, innovations, ideas, education, products, services, inspiration and food.

Every year, foodservice professionals from more than 100 countries come to Chicago to experience the largest annual foodservice show in the United States—and the world. They come to discover hot trends and new product innovations – learn from top chefs and international thought-leaders – network, research, do business and taste lots of amazing food.

Exclusive International Services

NRA Show helps international attendees with discounted hotel and travel, along with department of commerce, department of agriculture and consulate resources to make your trip simple.

International Trade Center

A home away from home, featuring interpreters, product locator services, private meeting rooms, relaxation rooms and a number of other amenities to make your show productive and comfortable.

International Back of House Culinary Tours

NRA Show produces a series of Culinary Tours exclusively for our international attendees that takes you behind the scenes at some of the hottest and most interesting sites in Chicago. You can register for a tour when you register for your badge.

International Reception

Network with trade executives, exhibitors and other foodservice professionals from around the world who are interested in expanding their operations. It's free with your badge.

Trade Specialists

The NRA's trade specialist partners organize delegations from all over the world to send you to NRA Show with other professionals from your area.

Help Getting a Visa

For visitors who need a Visa, NRA Show provides a number of services to make the process as quick and hassle-free as possible. More information is available on the NRA Show website.

U.S. Exporters at AAPEX Eager to Connect with Buyers from FTA Countries

The Automotive Aftermarket Products Expo (AAPEX) has approximately 300 U.S. exporters that are eager to connect with buyers looking to grow their business with exports, especially those located in countries with Free Trade Agreements (FTAs). The 2014 AAPEX is slated for Tuesday, Nov. 4 through Thursday, Nov. 6, at the Sands Expo Center, Las Vegas, Nev. The event's commitment to buyers and exhibitors is You Will Grow Your Business at AAPEX.

Many U.S. exporters first look at FTA partner countries when trying to identify target export markets. Free trade agreements offer significant benefits to U.S. companies by opening markets, reducing tariffs and other transaction costs, eliminating regulations that restrict international trade, reducing risks, increasing transparency, strengthening protections for investments and property, facilitating and harmonizing customs procedures, and establishing procedures for resolving disputes. They reduce barriers to U.S. exports, protect U.S. interests and enhance the rule of law in the FTA partner country. The reduction of trade barriers and the creation of a more stable and transparent trading and investment environment make it easier and less expensive for U.S. companies to export their products and services to trading partner markets.

The United States has 14 FTAs in force with 20 countries: Australia; Bahrain; Chile; Colombia; CAFTA-DR: Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua; Israel; Jordan; Korea; Morocco; NAFTA: Canada and Mexico; Oman; Panama; Peru; and Singapore.

In 2010, 41 percent of U.S. goods exports went to FTA partner countries with exports to those countries growing at a faster rate than exports to the rest of the world from 2009 to 2010, 23 percent vs. 20 percent, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The United States also is currently engaged in two ongoing FTA negotiations: the Trans-Pacific Partnership with Australia, Brunei Darussalam, Canada, Chile, Malaysia, Mexico, New Zealand, Peru, Singapore and Vietnam, and the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership (U.S.-EU). The potential tariff savings alone make the TTIP a potential game changer. A U.S.-EU free-trade agreement that eliminates all tariffs will allow U.S. and EU exporters to avoid an estimated $10.5 billion in annual duties paid on bilateral goods trade. According to Bloomberg Government, about $6.4 billion in duties were paid on U.S. goods exports to the EU in 2011. In 2011 alone, U.S. parts exports to Europe totaled more than $3 billion, and stands to substantially increase once the TTIP is completed. Buyers from these countries should begin making connections via AAPEX with U.S. exporters who will be eager to take advantage of the new FTAs when they are completed.

AAPEX currently attracts buyers from all 20 FTA partner countries, with 9,525 buyers from FTA member countries in 2013, up from 9,311 in 2012. The U.S. Commercial Service, the export promotion arm of the U.S. Dept. of Commerce, organized buying delegations to the 2013 AAPEX from five FTA countries: Colombia, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras. International association partners organized several additional buying delegations from FTA countries to AAPEX. In addition, the U.S. Commercial Service presence at AAPEX allows buyers and exporters to speak with experts charged with increasing U.S. exports in FTA countries.

To locate AAPEX exhibitors that export, use the AAPEX website, www.aapexshow.com. Simply click on the 2013 Product Search within the Find Products/Exhibitors section, scroll down to the Additional Exhibitor Information area, click Region(s) Exported To and within Country & State, indicate United States. AAPEX exhibitors who export also are identified with the "We Export" icon.

To be part of an international buying delegation to AAPEX, please contact Judy Novak at: judy.novak@aapexshow.com or contact your local U.S. Embassy or Consulate.

AAPEX represents the $477 billion global motor vehicle aftermarket and is jointly sponsored by the Automotive Aftermarket Industry Association (AAIA) and the Automotive Aftermarket Suppliers Association (AASA).

resqme®: The Original Keychain Car Escape Tool Saves Lives

For the past 10 years, resqme, the innovative 2-in-1 vehicle rescue tool has saved thousands of lives, and given millions of motorists and their families around the world peace of mind on the road.

Founded in 2003 by Laurent Colasse, the resqme tool features a protected sharp blade to cut a jammed seatbelt, and a spring-loaded steel spike that will shatter a car window.

"We have spent the better part of a decade dedicated to providing an efficient and reliable solution to vehicle entrapment," says Colasse. "With today's travelers facing ever-changing dangers including fires, accidents and flash flooding, it is extremely important for every person getting behind the wheel to know how to safely and effectively escape their vehicle in an emergency situation, especially if one was to be trapped in an automobile."

Originally designed for emergency personnel, resqme is a patented, American-made technology for motorists. It is an easy-to-use tool that is small, lightweight, and easy to use. "We have developed a powerful design that works," says Colasse.

Car entrapment has become a real threat and danger to motorists worldwide.

According to the Bureau of Transportation, an estimated five hundred deaths occur every year in the USA due to people being trapped in a submerged vehicle with no escape possible. A 2012 report by the US National Weather Service stated that 39% of all flood related deaths were auto related and National Drowning Prevention Alliance estimate that 10% of all drownings occur in vehicles. Between 2006 and 2010, car fires killed an average of four people each week, based upon the data from the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA). Also according to the Department of Geosciences, in the University of San Francisco, the total of U.S. heatstroke deaths of children left in cars in 2013 increased to forty three.

The resqme tool is currently being used by more than three million people worldwide. "Our goal is to provide a solution to this massive auto safety problem," says Colasse. "The resqme tool has proven to be the fastest and most reliable escape tool in the world. Using our tool, a trapped passenger can get free in less than 60 seconds, far more effective than any other tool on the market."

Now, resqme Inc.'s mission is to ensure that every first responder and traveler worldwide is adequately equipped to deal with any such danger that might arise. "The award-winning resqme tool helps save lives when seconds count," says Colasse. "We are looking for partners worldwide to distribute this important emergency tool."

New Alternative to Chrome Plating

Cosmichrome is an amazing decorative alternative to expensive, environmentally hazardous chrome plating. Exclusive formulation can be sprayed on like paint. Unlike traditional electrolytic plating finishes, it can be applied on wood, plastic, metal, stone, glass, vinyl, paint, plaster—virtually any properly prepared surface. Available in gold, silver, bronze, chrome, and many hues and patinas. Offers the decorative luster of metal plate at a fraction of the cost. Gold Touch is the spray chrome supplier to the legendary Izod IndyCar series race team Andretti Autosport. Meets RoHS requirements.
