Export USA: The American Magazine for International Buyers

Export USA is the export promotion magazine of the USA. The catalog-style magazine is designed to help international buyers find products and services from American suppliers.

Every issue of Export USA features American companies and trade shows looking to find distributors/agents and buyers for their products and services. The purpose of the magazine is to assist importers all over the world in their search for American products and services.

Export USA is distributed bi-monthly to readers outside the United States. The magazine, which is free, is sent directly to qualified recipients and distributed by U.S. embassies and consulates worldwide.

Export USA is e-mailed directly to qualified recipients, such as pre-screened agents, distributors, buyers, end-users, and selected multiplier organizations. Free copies are also available at industry trade shows and other events around the world.

Whether you are looking to import for the first time from the United States, to find additional U.S. suppliers, Export USA is a proven method for finding the right American suppliers for your company. Each issue features U.S. companies interested in expanding into new markets around the world—and who are ready to do business.

If you are an international buyer, distributor or importer interested in doing business with an American company in any form – direct purchase, representation, distribution, franchising, joint venture or other strategic partnering – Export USA will help you find what you need.

In order to receive Export USA updates via email, please indicate your preference on our online subscription form, and be sure that you provide us with an accurate e-mail address and contact information. We will then notify you by e-mail when the latest issue is published.

Grow Your Business with U.S. Exports at AAPEX 2015

Each year, international delegations and buyers from around the world shop for U.S. exports and top U.S. brands at the Automotive Aftermarket Products Expo (AAPEX). At the recent AAPEX 2014 in Las Vegas, more than 200 U.S. exporters were on hand to provide buyers with exceptional opportunities to identify new products and connect with suppliers to grow their businesses with exports.

"Visiting AAPEX is an excellent opportunity to meet U.S. aftermarket suppliers of all sizes that are selling around the globe and to remind them that the U.S. Department of Commerce is here to support their efforts to export and remain competitive. It's wonderful to see that the industry is back on track, with U.S. auto parts exports growing almost 81 percent from 2009 to 2013," said Chandra Brown, deputy assistant secretary for Manufacturing, U.S. Department of Commerce, International Trade Administration.

Brown attended AAPEX 2014, as well as AAPEX 2013, to underscore the importance of the event for exports and to help boost U.S. exports of manufactured products. AAPEX also works closely with specialists from the U.S. Commercial Service, the export promotion arm of the U.S. Dept. of Commerce, and provides market research and educational seminars to help buyers boost profits with exports.

In 2014, international buyers traveled from 141 countries to attend AAPEX, which featured approximately 2,400 exhibitors, 5,000 stands and nearly 50 AAPEXedu sessions. International attendance was up 1.5 percent from 2013, while Canadian buyer attendance at AAPEX grew 9 percent in 2014. The top countries represented at the 2014 event were Canada, Mexico, Australia, Japan, Brazil, China, Germany, Colombia, the United Kingdom, Norway, Ecuador and Venezuela.

A total of 16 official Commercial Service delegations attended AAPEX, of which eight were escorted by Automotive Commercial Specialists from U.S. Embassies abroad: Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Nigeria, Saudi Arabia and The Netherlands.

In addition, non-commercial service delegations to AAPEX 2014 included: Australia – the Australian Automotive Aftermarket Association (AAAA); Argentina/Brazil - Sincopecas/Conarem; India - Mohali Industries Association; and the Automotive Component Manufacturers Association (ACMA) of India.

Commercial Service specialists helped buyers with identifying AAPEX exhibitors that export, determining the market potential of product lines, setting up appointments with potential suppliers and facilitating in-person meetings.

Each year, AAPEX also provides an International Buyer Center at the Sands Expo Center to offer additional support for buying delegations, including interpreters, private meeting rooms, business services and staff to answer questions.

Buyers who missed the 2014 event can still identify export opportunities at AAPEX either by using the AAPEX website's Find Products feature, www.aapexshow.com/find, and entering "we export" as the keyword search, or by looking for the "globe" icon next to an exhibitor's name on the website. In addition, buyers can download the AAPEX 2014 Mobile App, www.aapexshow.com/app, and search, "we export" to identify U.S. exporters at AAPEX.

At AAPEX 2014, left to right, Liz Couch, Office of Transportation & Machinery/Auto Team, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce; Andres Castrillon JD, Senior Counsel, International Affairs, Auto Care Association (formerly the Automotive Aftermarket Industry Association); Dil Kulathum, Vice President of International, Cardone; Chandra Brown, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Manufacturing, U.S. Department of Commerce, International Trade Administration; and Aaron Lowe, AAP, Senior Vice President, Regulatory and Government Affairs, Auto Care Association (formerly the Automotive Aftermarket Industry Association).

AAPEX 2015 dates are Education: Monday, Nov. 2 through Thursday, Nov. 5; Exhibits: Tuesday, Nov. 3 through Nov. 5, at the Sands Expo Center, Las Vegas, Nev.

To be part of an international buying delegation to AAPEX, contact Judy Novak at: judy.novak@aapexshow.com or contact your local U.S. Embassy or Consulate.

AAPEX represents the $477 billion global aftermarket auto parts industry and is co-owned by the Auto Care Association and the Automotive Aftermarket Suppliers Association (AASA), the light vehicle aftermarket division of the Motor & Equipment Manufacturers Association (MEMA).

Registration Now Open for NRA Show 2015

Registration for the 2015 Restaurant, Hotel-Motel Show and International Wine, Spirits & Beer Event (IWSB) is now open.

The NRA Show 2015 will be held at Chicago's McCormick Place, May 16-19, 2015. The event is the restaurant and hospitality industry's premier trade show and an opportunity to gain inspiration from renowned experts, innovative suppliers, celebrated chefs and tens of thousands of industry professionals.

The co-located IWSB 2015 event will take place May 17-18, and is the only beverage alcohol event exclusively focused on growing restaurant and hospitality bar programs. The hugely successful IWSB features hundreds of established and emerging alcohol brands and labels and influential beverage alcohol buyers.

Each year, more than 60,000 professionals and 2,000 exhibitors gather in Chicago for four days that will shape the foodservice industry for an entire year. Produced by the National Restaurant Association, NRA Show is the biggest, broadest, most exciting foodservice show in the world. That means everything you need to make your business better is here: connections, innovations, ideas, education, products, services, inspiration and food.

Every year, foodservice professionals from more than 100 countries come to Chicago to experience the largest annual foodservice show in the United States—and the world. They come to discover hot trends and new product innovations – learn from top chefs and international thought-leaders – network, research, do business and taste lots of amazing food.

Exclusive International Services

NRA Show helps international attendees with discounted hotel and travel, along with department of commerce, department of agriculture and consulate resources to make your trip simple.

International Trade Center

A home away from home, featuring interpreters, product locator services, private meeting rooms, relaxation rooms and a number of other amenities to make your show productive and comfortable.

International Back of House Culinary Tours

NRA Show produces a series of Culinary Tours exclusively for our international attendees that takes you behind the scenes at some of the hottest and most interesting sites in Chicago. You can register for a tour when you register for your badge.

International Reception

Network with trade executives, exhibitors and other foodservice professionals from around the world who are interested in expanding their operations. It's free with your badge.

Trade Specialists

The NRA's trade specialist partners organize delegations from all over the world to send you to NRA Show with other professionals from your area.

Help Getting a Visa

For visitors who need a Visa, NRA Show provides a number of services to make the process as quick and hassle-free as possible. More information is available on the NRA Show website.
